

Our Practice is now a member of The Grand Union Primary Care Network.

Bridgewater Surgeries, New Road Surgery, Garston Medical Centre and Baldwins Lane Surgery are working together as a group to improve patient care and offer a wider range of services to our community over the coming five years.

Our aims are:

- To work together in order to deliver high quality health care to the patients registered with each of the practices,
- To provide the new ways of delivering healthcare recommended by NHS England,
- To develop a mixed workforce of suitably qualified staff to provide healthcare,
- To listen to the views of our patient population in order to provide the most appropriate access to our services,
- To work together to ensure we provide good care for patients while maintaining the independence and individuality of each practice.

We have started this journey by employing a Clinical Pharmacist to work across the practices. Other healthcare professionals will follow as the services we offer expand. These may include paramedics, physiotherapists, physicians' assistants, mental health workers, and social prescribing link workers.

The practices have a history of working together already and we currently provide:

- Falls clinics and education sessions for frail patients,
- A sore throat assessment service in conjunction with local pharmacies,
- Wellbeing education sessions for those at greater risk of heart disease.

We look forward to even more services as The Grand Union develops. If you would like some more information about Primary Care Networks, please click here, or watch this video <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=W19DtEsc8Ys>
